As your local electric co-op, we get to be a part of this community. When we think about membership, we think about all of the ways we can give back to you, our members—and that’s what matters most to us.

October is National Cooperative Month, and for the many different types of co-ops in the U.S., it’s the time of year to celebrate what membership truly means. You could be a member of a lot of different places—a gym, a 4-H club, a book of the month club—the list goes on and on! But what makes being a member of a co-op different?

The simple answer to that question is when you are a member of a co-op, you are also an owner. You own a stake in our business, and just like any stakeholder, there are many benefits to your membership. As a member of Northwestern Electric, you have a say in the representatives who are elected to serve on the co-op’s board of directors. You have an opportunity to make your voice heard every year at our Annual Meeting. You get a say on policy issues your electric cooperative supports or opposes. You can even help to determine how your profits are redistributed.

Our bottom line is providing you with safe, reliable and affordable electricity. Sure, we have to think about expenses, overhead and other aspects of daily business, but when we have a little left over, we send it right back to you. Whether we return it to you in the form of a bill credit or a check—you have a say in where that money goes! And returning capital credits to you is a major part of why being a co-op member matters.

As your local electric co-op, we get to be a part of this community. When we think about membership, we think about all of the ways we can give back to you, our members—and that’s what matters most to us.

Three benefits of being a co-op member

CAPITAL CREDITS

Unlike investor-owned utilities that pay dividends to their stockholders who are often far removed from the service provided, cooperatives return their margins to the members—those who used the service and provided an important investment.

This year, NWEC returned $996,825 in Capital Credits to its members. This practice is known as members’ economic participation and is included in the Rochdale Principles—a set of guidelines all cooperatives follow.

ONE MEMBER, ONE VOTE

Perhaps the most unique aspect of a cooperative is its democratically organized leadership system. Each co-op member receives one vote on official business. It doesn’t matter how much electricity you use or how many meters you have, all members have an equal say. This is contrary to an investor-owned company where the amount of money invested determines the amount of control each shareholder maintains.

DISTRICT & ANNUAL MEETINGS

As a member of NWEC, you have the opportunity to attend two important meetings for the Cooperative—district and annual meeting. They give you the chance to become involved in the operation of your Cooperative by electing the directors who represent you or voting on policy changes when the need arises. You’ll also hear updates as to the changes and progress over the past year of your Cooperative and where we are headed in the future.
Don’t let electrical hazards haunt Halloween!

The decorative lights, fog machines, black lights, and animatronics of Halloween make for adventurous, entertaining times for children and adults. With these decorations, though, the risk of fire or electrocution could be lurking around the corner. Use the following tips to keep electrical hazards from haunting you this Halloween:

- Inspect electrical decorations. Look for cracked or frayed sockets, loose or bare wires, and loose connections.
- Fasten outdoor lights securely to trees, walls or other firm supports. Do not use nails or tacks that could puncture light strings or electrical/extension cords.
- Provide well-lit walkways and porch lighting for trick-or-treaters. Make sure the walkways are clear for trick-or-treaters. (96833001)
- Don’t overload extension cords or place them near, or in, snow or water.
- Do not overload your circuit breakers or fuses.
- Plug lights and decorations into circuits protected by ground fault circuit interrupters (GFCIs). Portable outdoor GFCIs can be purchased where electrical supplies are sold.
- Make sure decorative lighting is well-ventilated, protected from weather and a safe distance from anything flammable like dry leaves and shrubs. Do not coil power cords or extension cords while in use or tuck under rugs or drapes.
- Turn off all lights and decorations before leaving or going to bed. Always have at least one fire extinguisher available and know how to use it.

Hidden account number contest

Last month’s numbers went unclaimed. They belonged to Martin Zehner and Woof Pet Rescue.

We have hidden two account numbers somewhere in the articles in this newsletter. The numbers will always be enclosed in parentheses and will look similar to this example (XXXXXX).

If you recognize your account number, all you have to do is give us a call on or before the 8th of the current month and we’ll give you a credit on your bill for the amount stated.

This month’s numbers are worth $75 each. Happy hunting!

Caramel Popcorn

- 14 cups popped popcorn
- 1 1/2 cups packed brown sugar
- 3/4 cup butter
- 1/3 cup light-colored corn syrup
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups whole almonds and/or roasted, salted cashews (optional)

Preheat oven to 300 degrees F. Remove all unpopped kernels from popped popcorn. Put popcorn and, if desired, nuts into a 17x12x2-inch roasting pan. Keep popcorn warm in the oven while making the caramel mixture.

Butter a large piece of foil; set aside. For caramel, in a medium saucepan, combine brown sugar, butter and corn syrup. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture boils. Continue boiling at a moderate, steady rate, without stirring, for 5 minutes more.

Remove saucepan from heat. Stir in baking soda and vanilla. Pour caramel over popcorn; stir gently to coat. Bake for 15 minutes. Stir mixture; bake for 5 minutes more. Spread caramel corn on prepared foil; cool. Place caramel corn in gift container; cover with plastic wrap.
